

Martin Luther King, Jr.

Martin Luther King Jr was a shining light that no one could blow out.

Martin Luther King Jr. was a beating heart, constantly thudding for others whose hearts had been broken.

His life was a gift to the world; he took risks that others couldn't take.

Martin Luther King Jr was like a brave warrior, or a brave lion - using his powerful voice for others to hear.

His life was like a rose, thorny and tough, yet beautiful for others to witness.

Martin Luther King Jr's messages led others peacefully to change their lives.

His messages were hope and joy and persuaded people to never give up, no matter what.

Martin Luther King Jr's words rang from every hill and molehill across the United States.

Martin Luther King Jr was a grateful man who would risk his life for you.

He was a go-getter with a heart of gold.

Martin Luther King Jr. 's words reigned inside people's heads and were like glowing stars lighting the way for others.

Martin Luther King Jr. was an amazing, good man who never let us down.

He was a humble and righteous man who peacefully helped our country. His honorable work was rooted in peace and love, and he wanted to unify everyone.